Mrs. Jewel Bloom

MAY 1, 1929 - DEC 12, 2013

BLOOM

Jewel Landau of Miami Beach, Florida died peacefully at home surrounded by her family on December 12, 2013, at the age of 84. Devoted wife to her husband of 65 years, Stanley, who was by her side caring for her every day of her life. Loving mother to her children, Barbara Bloom, David Bloom and Janet Horwitz (Sanford). Cherished baby sister to Bernice Ettner (Milton dec'd) and Sheldon Landau (dec'd). Known to her grandchildren, Michelle, Zachary and Ashleigh as MomMom. Jewel was a presence; loving and caring, she had an aura about her. Jewel's smile would light up any room she entered. She never said an unkind word about anyone. Whoever crossed her path thought of her as their good friend, Mom or MomMom. Jewel had many favorite activities but none came close to her love for playing and watching tennis. Her presence will surely be missed; however, never to be forgotten. The family has asked donations be made in Jewel's memory to the American Cancer Society. Services are Sunday, December 15 at 9:00 a.m. at Temple Beth Sholom, 4144 Chase Avenue, Miami Beach, FL.

Mary "Cindy" Francis posted:

Jewel was my friend and supervisor while I was employed at The Carriage House Apartments/Condominiums during the mid 80's. She was the most heart warming individual. She treated me with such kindness, I was always glad to see her coming into the office with that beautiful smile. She made a great impression upon me for life. Years later I walked into a north beach steak house after visiting the beach, when much to my surprise Jewel, dining with her family, recognized me and jumped up to greet me with such vigor, i felt like a celebrity. I will never forget her kindness and influence she left me with, it has taken me far since then. I think of her often. So, to you Jewel and Stanley Bloom; Thank you, God bless you. Sincerely and with love, Mary Cynthia "Cindy" Francis. Hollywood, Florida
