Mr. Rubin was a friend, and a motivator. These past two years speaking with him anytime he came in to Century Plaza during the evenings, was a great experience. I thank him for his wisdom, his time, and his motivation. A poem I've written...LETTER TO THE LOST
 This is a letter to the lost
 But never forgotten
 The memory in a picture
 And untouched clothes in the closet
 Thank you, for being in the dreams
 That we never want to end
 For sending words of encouragement
 Through whispers in the wind
 You inspired many
 Are loved by more
 Our pain is quelled
 As we let you – our Angel
 Enter Heavens doors
 Our hearts will always remember
 What our minds may one day forget
 You were a blessing
 At times – everything we needed
 One of the most endearing
 People we've ever met
 Blessed be your soul
 May our prayers carry you to eternal peace
 Let us celebrate your life
 And reminisce on the joy
 That was you-
 Until we speak again
 Love
 Enjoy your angelic sleep
 And until we meet again
 Rest in Peace
 This is our letter to you
 The lost
 But never forgotten
 The memory in a picture
 And untouched clothes in the closet
 We thank you for those dreams
 That we'll never want to end
 And we love to hear your voice
 Through those whispers in the wind
 This is not goodbye
 This is not the end
 For we will meet again

Mr. Rubin was a true inspiration to me. I got to know him because of my working the late shift at Century Plaza, and during that time, he and I spent much time speaking with one another, sharing stories of our lives. He motivated me to pursue an idea - a dream, and I'd like to leave a poem that I've written...-Jeremy Cotto
