“ It was June 1991 when I first met Susie! She was outside hanging clothes. We just moved in next door. She welcomed me with the biggest smile and kindest blue eyes! We became fast friends. She was always outside taking care of the garden and keeping busy. Then Fall came... there she was raking leaves and hanging clothes! We had many talks and laughs over the next 25 plus years. My nickname for her was "jacuzzi Susie" as we spent many relaxing summers in the hot tub! She treated myself, Jim, Tommy and Matthew like we were her family and she became part of ours♥♥♥. We spent fun New Year's Eves together playing games, eating delicious food and enjoying the blessings a loving, kind, unforgettable woman. We will miss her until we meet again. Behave yourself up there Susie! Love and kisses...the Constantine family. P.S. heartfelt sympathy to all of Susies' family and friends♥♥♥

“ For those of us in the family who didn't get to see her often, our greatest memory of Aunt Susie is her several-page letters that came with every card she sent. Just 2 years ago she lit up my birthday party with her presence. And what a smile!
Remembering her with love,
Niece Carolyn

“ My mother was very young at heart. She enjoyed being around her grandchildren and great grandchildren. She always wanted to be included in what ever activities were going on. When the great grandchildren came for the weekend regardless of the weather, she would be outside building snowmen, sledding, even shoveling the snow. She loved going shopping and going out to eat. One day in December 2004 she mentioned she had never gone to see Santa Claus. So, I told her I was taking her out shopping. Instead I took her to the Christmas Display at Macy's and Santa. He was wonderful with her and sat with her and talk with her for about 20 minutes. She cried most of the time. That was all see talked about that Christmas was her visit to see Santa.

“ My mom was a strong woman. She enjoyed her life & her family. You never had to worry about asking her to go someplace, she never said no. She sometimes would get mad if for some reason she wasn't invited. She was always invited to my friends homes when we were invited, They always greeted her with a whisky sour. Which was strange since I witnessed her telling a doctor that she never smoked or drank. When I told the doctor that no she had never smoked, but I know for a fact that she enjoyed her occasional whisky sour, she got mad and argued with me..I miss you Mom, you will always be in my heart & prayers.R I P enjoy your family. Love always Barbara.
